The school play, Tuesday night went off with a bang, as usual, in spite of the fact that Norris Weidrick, who had one of the leading parts, broke his arm about an hour before the curtain went up.

He tried to crank Casleton Breyley's machine and it kicked, breaking his arm close to the wrist.

He was hustled to a doctor's office and got fixed up, went back home, and then took his place in the play. Talk about grit. It was Morris who won first in pole-vaulting at Medina last Friday, and he had two seconds in the mile race and five-hundred-yard races. He helped Spencer school keep the cup they won last year.

Miss Effie Lance received a telephone message Wednesday morning telling her that her father and mother were hurt when an auto ran into the horse and buggy they were driving.

COAL FACTS - 1921

We have seen it before and we believe that 1921 will be no exception—that unless coal is purchased during the summer months when coal and cars are plentiful, a car shortage will again develop in the fall and prices will show a marked advance.

Do you know that "the peace of mind that comes from coal in the basement pays big dividends?"
